

BUILT TO STAND THE TEST OF TIME...

...since 1889, we've been building homes for East Midlands people. Combining the best of traditional building techniques and modern technology, we create homes that stand the test of time – homes to be proud of.

We've never lost sight of the values that set us apart:

- We're still based in the East Midlands
- We're still family run
- We still produce bespoke kitchens and windows in our own workshops.

The result is friendly, customer focused service and quality you can rely on.
